

-
1. PLEUROTHĀLLĪS recūrvā ; folio obovato coriaceo subobliquo petiolo pluries longiore, spicā brevi recurvâ, floribus pubescentibus, sepalis lateralibus connatis, petalis membranaceis rhombeis acutis, labello membranaceo ovato utrinque sinuato obtuso, columnæ margine petaloideo incurvo.

A small creeping plant, with short recurved spikes of dull pale purple flowers. Communicated by Mr. Geo. Graves from the garden of Mrs. Cannon of Stratford.