

63. E. stellatum.

E. pseudobulbis cepæformibus diphyllis, foliis ensiformibus acutis paniculâ scabrâ longioribus, sepalis petalisque angustioribus lineari-lanceolatis stellatis, labelli lobis lateralibus angustis falcatis intermedio subrotundo plano venis rugulosis, disci callo medio excavato in lineas tres rugulosas procurrente, columnæ auriculis minutis acutis clinandrio denticulato.

Wild in the CARACCAS—Purdie, (v. s. sp. comm. cel. Hooker.)

A slender grassy plant, with leaves fifteen inches long by half an inch broad. The stellate flowers and flat round lip are striking peculiarities in the dried state.